Guided Reading: Guided reading levels were assigned by literacy experts and certified Reading Recovery® teachers using the guidelines identified in Guided Reading and Matching Books to Readers by Irene C. Fountas and Gay Su Pinnell.

INT (Intervention): Intervention levels were assigned by literacy experts and certified Reading Recovery® teachers and are intended for use in early intervention and one-on-one tutorial programs, including Reading Recovery®. These levels are not officially authorized by Reading Recovery®. Reading Recovery® is a registered service mark of the Ohio State University.

DRA (Developmental Reading Assessment) and EDL (Evaluación del desarrollo de la lectura): DRA and EDL levels were determined using information in the Developmental Reading Assessment Resource Guide and EDL Resource Guide by Joetta Beaver.

All level placements may vary and are subject to revision. Teachers may adjust the assigned levels in accordance with their own evaluations.

Lee & Low Books is the largest multicultural children's book publisher in the United States. We are your diversity source.

In 1991, Lee & Low Books began with a simple mission: to publish beautiful children's books about everyone, for everyone. We wanted our books to emphasize the richness of today's cultures, to reflect our world as it truly looks, and to be authentic and accurate. Our books have since won major awards, including the Coretta Scott King Award, the Pura Belpré Award, the NAACP Image Award, and many more.

We are family owned and independent, which means we make our own decisions, take risks on stories we love, and keep our books in print. We are also one of the few publishing companies in the United States owned by people of color. We are dedicated to promoting equity both within our company and in the publishing industry at large.

Lee & Low Books publishes books for a wide range of young readers, including dual-language guided reading books under our Bebop Books imprint; picture books under our Lee & Low Books and Shen's Books imprints; and middle-grade and young adult novels under the Tu Books imprint. We are also one of the nation's largest publishers of bilingual and Spanish-language children's titles through our beloved Children's Book Press imprint and our award-winning Más Piñata line.

We are proud to work with schools and districts across the country to help them build libraries and collections that reflect their students. We are committed to meeting the needs of educators not only through our books but also by offering free, in-depth teacher's guides for nearly all of our titles.

Visit our website, leeandlow.com, to learn more about our company and browse our books, collections, and resources. We look forward to meeting you!

¡Lee & Low en español!

Estamos comprometidos a cubrir las necesidades educativas tanto de los programas bilingües y en español (ELL/ESL), como de las escuelas y distritos con familias hispanohablantes que busquen participar activamente en la educación de sus estudiantes.

- Creamos colecciones personalizadas que suplementen los objetivos de cualquier currículum en inglés o español.
- Publicamos libros de alta calidad y culturalmente auténticos, en formato lenguaje-dual o bilingüe.
- Ofrecemos guías de estudio gratuitas con todos nuestros libros, para maximizar su uso en el aula y en el hogar.
- Hablamos español. ¡Podemos ayudarte en todo el proceso!

COMPOUND IT ALL!

The Compound Word Building Game

Compound It All! is a compound word-building card game that will expand vocabulary, develop critical thinking, and even sharpen math skills. This unique game can be used in the classroom and is equally fun to play with friends and family.

Más Piñata

Dual-Language Levelled Reading

A Guarantee of Cultural Authenticity

Más Piñata was the first authentic early literacy program for Spanish-speaking students in the United States. It was created by Grupo Educaturas—native Spanish speakers and long-time educators Dr. Barbara Flores, Elena Castro, and Eddie Hernandez, along with illustrators Michael Ramirez and Mary Ramirez-Green. All Más Piñata titles were originally written in Spanish, so you can use them with confidence in your classroom.

Features of the Books:

- Authentic stories
- High-frequency words
- Simple sentence patterns
- Familiar words and concepts
- Natural oral-language sentence structures
- Large, well-spaced words
- Consistent placement of text
- Available in Spanish and English editions

Dive Into Reading Early Reader Series

Dive into reading with chapter books from LEE & LOW BOOKS! The two series in our DIVE INTO READING line will help you find the perfect books to support children in each stage of their reading development.

Confetti Kids

This early reader series features a diverse cast of characters living in a friendly city neighborhood. Approachable, realistic stories are at the right level for children starting to read independently. Detailed illustrations and high-frequency words support comprehension for emergent readers, and each book offers an activity page to help readers further engage with the text.

Authentic Spanish Books

for Pre-K to Grade 5

Libros autenticos en español

de Pre-K a 5to Grado

Here at Lee & Low Books, we pride ourselves on publishing culturally and linguistically authentic books that all children can enjoy. We are proud to showcase stories that celebrate cultures, voices, and experiences of communities historically underrepresented or misrepresented in children's literature. High-quality bilingual and Spanish books help build a solid foundation to achieve Spanish literacy or bilingualism while also affirming and validating a child's identity, culture, and home language. The following suggested read-alouds are some of our most popular bilingual and dual language texts written by authors from the cultures featured in the books.

Grades PreK-2 AUTHSPNPREK2 $211.20 16 Books

Classroom Library Questionnaire

Educators, how culturally responsive and diverse is your classroom library? Use the following questions as a guide to analyze your classroom library book collections and determine where there are strengths and where there are gaps in diversity.

To what extent do you agree with the following statements?

	Strongly Agree	Agree	Neither Agree or Disagree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
1. The classroom library contains multiple books that include . . . nonhuman, anthropomorphic main characters (e.g., talking animals, talking trucks, talking vegetables, imaginary or science fiction creatures, etc.) 2. The classroom library contains numerous books that include . . . main characters of color
main characters who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender main characters with disabilities
3. The classroom library contains numerous books that . . . are written or illustrated by a person of color or a Native/Indigenous person feature a person of color or a Native/indigenous person on the front cover feature contemporary diverse characters and storylines feature a range of family structures and family configurations feature characters with different types of gender identity and gender expression are set in contemporary Asia
are set in contemporary Africa are set in contemporary Europe
are set in contemporary Central or South America are set in contemporary Oceania are set in contemporary Native/First Nations/Indigenous regions are set in contemporary North America (outside the United States) are reflective of my students' cultures and heritages explore different socioeconomic backgrounds
explore religious diversity
are set in different geographic settings (urban, rural, suburban) are written in languages meaningful to my students' backgrounds or the community in which they live (e.g., Spanish, Chinese, Tagalog) teach about immigration to the United States beyond the Ellis Island narrative teach about Black/African American contributions to the United States beyond the Civil Rights Movement feature diversity throughout the year, not just in heritage and observance months (e.g. Black History Month, Native American History Month)

4. The majority of books featuring people of color or Native/Indigenous people . . .

Strongly Agree	Agree	Neither Agree or Disagree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree

- are only about issues of race, prejudice, or discrimination
- are only culturally specific (e.g., flags, foods, festivals)
- are only culturally neutral or contain incidental diversity

5. The classroom library contains some books that include . . .

Strongly Agree	Agree	Neither Agree or Disagree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree

- harmful stereotypes about a group of people
- inaccurate/outdated information about a group of people
- generalizations about a group of people
- misrepresentations of a group of people
- discriminatory content about a group of people
- non-authentic stories about a group of people

6. The classroom library reflects the diversity of my students and the community in which we live (e.g., gender, race, family structure, language, culture, socioeconomic background, etc.)

Testimonials

“We look for children’s and young adult literature that engages with the shared heritage of the Americas in authentic and meaningful ways. Lee & Low Books has become a mainstay for us in this somewhat formidable task. Their powerful stories resonate, always guaranteeing worthwhile perspectives. We are proud to use their resources.”

—Keira Philipp-Schnurer,
Supervisor of Community
Education Programs, the Latin
American and Iberian Institute,
University of New Mexico

“Lee & Low represents the very best in children’s publishing and is an important leader in the movement for more diversity in children’s literature.”

—Ellen Oh, CEO & President,
We Need Diverse Books (WNDB)

“Lee & Low Books is simply the best when it comes to publishing and promoting diversity in children’s literature. They are one of my top resources for excellent books, booklists, guides, and resources to recommend to educators and parents. And as passionate advocates for diversity in children’s literature and other fields, Lee & Low are models for the rest of us. They pave the way for new authors and illustrators covering all forms of diversity and they remind us to be vigilant in our own reading lives, not only for ourselves and our children, but for society at large.”

—Anita Merina,
Former Coordinator,
NEA’s Read Across America

“Lee & Low has been a leader in publishing books for diverse readers for many years. Their collections are outstanding and should be part of every school’s curriculum. If we want our kids to become independent readers, we have to make sure that they are exposed to a broad cross-section of literature. Lee & Low’s books educate and inspire. Their books are an invaluable resource.”

—Dr. Pedro Noguera, author of Excellence Through Equity
and Distinguished Professor of Education, UCLA

“Lee & Low plays a unique and valuable role in the publishing industry. Not only are they publishing new books, but they are also bringing back into print many of the gems from multicultural literature that have been unavailable for years. These titles were published at a time when children’s books had a stronger orientation to issues of race, class, and power than one typically sees in picture books today. Lee & Low is also conducting invaluable studies of diversity (or the lack of it) in the children’s book publishing industry. The studies serve as important exposés and a call to action.”

—Deborah Menkart, Executive
Director, Teaching for Change

“Lee & Low Books are publishers and heroes. . . . Their stories are authentic, respectful, and unforgettable. They harness the power and wonder of our culturally rich world to create books that will entertain and inspire both children and adults.”

—Kyle Zimmer, President/
Cofounder, First Book

“Lee & Low publishes high-quality books that feature all kinds of people and families, offering children the chance to see themselves in the pages even as they encounter others who are different. A school whose classroom libraries are stocked with Lee & Low books has made a commitment to celebrate diversity.”

—Maureen Costello, Director,
Teaching Tolerance

“Lee & Low has been and continues to be committed to publishing diverse books that are windows and mirrors for young readers. Lee & Low understands that reading about people different from oneself is as important as seeing oneself in books.”

—Heidi Powell, Founding Director,
An Open Book Foundation, and
Manager, Children and Teens
Department, Politics and Prose
Bookstore

“Thank you, thank you, Lee & Low for providing quality ‘mirror’ experiences for children as well as new ‘windows’ for readers. It is always with great confidence [that] I refer individuals inquiring about great books for children to Lee & Low. I know they will be pleased with the choices available and the quality—physical quality as well as quality substance.”
